

International Society for Clinical Biostatistics

ISCB 42nd Annual Meeting, Lyon, France
18 – 22 July 2021

2021 ISCB CONFERENCE AWARDS FOR SCIENTISTS

The ISCB Conference Awards for Scientists (CASc) are available to biostatisticians from the countries underdeveloped in clinical biostatistics to provide financial support for their active attendance at the 2021 ISCB Annual Meeting and presenting their original previously unpublished research. Previously awarded applicants (by the ISCB or similar scientific institutions) are therefore not eligible to apply for the 2021 ISCB CASc award. One may, of course, apply for an award in parallel with different scientific bodies which is not a problem when submitting original research.

Up to three ISCB CASc awards may be granted in 2021. Applications are invited from all areas of biostatistics, including clinical and biomedical research, epidemiology, clinical pharmacology, vaccines research, hospital performance evaluation, survival analysis, causal inference, genomics and system biology, functional analysis, etc. However, applications with purely theoretical content or those involving mere routine data analyses are not encouraged.

The Society has decided to make the CASc competition attractive for eligible applicants. Consequently, the 2021 CASc award will include the following:

1. Free registration to the Lyon Conference
2. Free registration to one pre-conference short course of the applicant's choice

The guidelines for the CASc awards and the application form are detailed below. Scientists should submit their application form, a one-page abstract, and a full poster or presentation to Julia Singer, see the details below. The applicants are further asked to submit their abstract using abstract submission and registration website of the 2021 ISCB Annual conference and notify the Scientific Programme Committee (SPC) that they are applying for the CASc award.

Successful applicants will be given a promotion code to waive the registration and accommodation fees when they register for the conference. CASc applicants who are not granted the award should inform the conference organisers if they wish to withdraw their abstract from the Conference proceedings due to a lack of funding support.

Closing date for the CASc applications is Monday, 15 March 2021 (24 hours CET).

The CAsC Guidelines

- (i) ISCB Conference Awards for Scientists are administered by the National Groups Subcommittee (NG SC) established by the Executive Committee of the ISCB. The aim is to encourage, and support biostatisticians working under financial constraints and enable them to participate in international dialogue.
- (ii) Who can apply? Scientists practicing in a country underdeveloped in clinical biostatistics whose work would benefit from attending the Annual ISCB Meeting. Eligible CAsC applicants are the scientists no longer involved in training. Consequently, students are not eligible to apply for the CAsC award and they are encouraged to apply for ISCB's Students Conference Award (StCA). Only original not previously published or awarded research may be submitted for the award.
- (iii) What shall be covered by the award? The registration fee shall be waived. Successful applicants are also eligible to attend one conference course free of charge.
- (iv) What are the rules for application?
 - a. Submission of the slides of an intended oral presentation or a complete poster which must concern the application of statistical methodology in clinical or epidemiological research. Applicants who do not have a specialised topic to present are invited to prepare a more general paper with a title such as 'The need for biostatistical development in my country/region/department'. Applications with purely theoretical content or those representing mere routine analyses of data sets are not encouraged by the ISCB. Only one original submission (i.e. one not previously presented or awarded) per applicant is permissible. Applicants who received the ISCB CAsC award in the past are not eligible to apply. Exception will be made for awardees of 2020 ISCB CAsC presenting a new work in 2021 ISCB CAsC. Please, also include an abstract in a separate document.
 - b. Completed application form, presentation/poster and abstract needs to be received by the Chairman of the ISCB NG SC by Monday, 15 March 2021 (24 hours CET).
 - c. You are further asked to submit your abstract using the ISCB42 abstract submission system! This is for information to the Lyon SPC. As part of the online abstract submission you are asked to check the box that you apply for the 2021 CAsC award.
 - d. Who will decide about my application and how? The ISCB NG SC will decide the awards promptly, usually within six weeks of the closing date for applications, based on the following criteria: Scientific quality, financial need, value of attendance at the meeting to the region (or to National Groups). Preference will be given to the regions not supported by the ISCB at previous meetings, and those exhibiting a prospect of setting up a new National Group. In selecting the award winners, all members of the NG SC will grade each application independently. In case of ties the Subcommittee will make final selection through discussion. Chairman of the ISCB NG SC will inform each applicant about the Subcommittee's decision.
